

I think the DO NOT CALL Protection Act is the best thing they ever thought of putting in place. My dinner and late evening hours have not been disturbed ever since I signed myself on to the DO NOT CALL list. Please don't take that away. If people want something they should be the ones to call to get the service, but soliciting people in their busy daily lives and giving them a whole selling speech over the phone should not be allowed.